

Ohio FFA Conference on Character

Conference Description:

Students will explore the concept of character, discuss how their actions affect others, and develop a personal brand. Students will evaluate the concept of “Character is what you do when nobody’s watching” and discuss how our actions, while being influenced by peers, can define one’s character. Students will leave the conference with a clear understanding of what they want to define their character as and what steps they can take to live out that definition.

Schedule:

9:00-10:20: Session 1- Character Explored

Session Objectives:

1. Define character.
2. Consider how their actions define their character.

10:40-12:00: Session 2- Character Influences

Session Objectives:

1. Explore the way that their choices impact others.
2. Discuss the positive and negative influences on their character.

12:00-12:30: Lunch

12:30-1:50: Session 3- Character Brand

Session Objectives:

1. Understand the concept of a brand.
2. Consider how their actions affect their brand.
3. Determine what their character brand includes.

2:10-3:30: Session 4- Character Statement

Session Objectives:

1. Develop action steps to living out how they want their character to be defined.
2. Identify situations where their character might be challenged.
3. Create a personal definition for character, summarizing character influences and their character brand.