OHIO FFA ASSOCIATION

As disclosed in the upcoming pages, Ohio FFA members have once again raised the bar and continue to reach great achievements. It is evident that FFA, agricultural education, and our members and students have a bright future in Ohio.

Ohio FFA plays an essential role in preparing career and technical education students to enter the workforce. Our members are equipped with practical, life and leadership skills that will help them obtain successful careers in agriculture. Whether they be chemists, veterinarians, government officials, farmers, welders, bankers or teachers, Ohio FFA members will soon be premier professionals in various career fields.

In addition to experiential and contextual learning provided through the classroom and supervised agricultural experiences, FFA provides an opportunity for members to further develop skills through engaging programs, such as Career Development Events and the Agriscience Fair. Chapters across Ohio are growing leaders, building communities and strengthening agriculture.

Ohio's FFA achievements and history are recognized nationally. Our state is proud to be the home of the FFA jacket and, since the organization's inception in 1928, Ohio leads the nation with 156 National Proficiency Winners and 33 National FFA Officers. Ohio has also had a grand total of 7,282 students earn the American FFA Degree, which ranks in the top five of all states.

It is clear the future of agriculture is bright because of those who wear blue jackets. While we celebrate the accomplishments of 2017-2018 in this report, we realize that our past achievements serve only as indicators of our future possibilities.

OHIO FFA FOUNDATION

Because of generous supporters, like you, we have much to celebrate this year! This annual report highlights several of the outstanding things our students were able to achieve because they were supported and empowered by their educators and the agricultural industry. Without our industry partners, students wouldn't have these tremendous opportunities available to them.

The Ohio FFA Foundation is extremely grateful to Ohio's agricultural community for your continued support of youth and the impact they will have on the future of agriculture. The Foundation depends on strong partnerships with businesses and industry to thrive, with this support we can continue to aid in the development of future leaders. Each year, the Foundation strives to support the mission "to make a positive difference in the lives of students by developing their potential for premier leadership, personal growth, and career success through agricultural education."

We are proud to partner with our industry supporters in unique ways to provide resources that are relevant for today's students.

Because of Beck's Hybrids, we were able to present new FFA jackets to members in need. This year, we provided 155 jackets to first-year members. Through the Teach Agriculture Ohio program, and with the support of Ohio Corn & Wheat, we were able to assist college students preparing to enter the classroom as successful agricultural educators.

Thank you for being our valued partner and for helping to ensure that Ohio FFA members will continue a rich tradition of success and accomplishments.

CHRYSTA BECK, PETTISVILLE FFA

Chrysta Beck, Pettisville FFA, was selected as the 2017 American Star in Agriscience. This is one of the most prestigious student awards presented by the National FFA Organization.

Each year at the National FFA Convention & Expo, four FFA members from across the nation are honored with American Star Awards for outstanding accomplishments in FFA and agricultural education. Beck was recognized as one of four students at the 2017 National FFA Convention & Expo in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Beck launched her meat and laying chicken business in her local community while she was in the third grade. When she started in FFA her freshman year of high school, she found poultry production to be a logical choice for her Supervised Agricultural Experience (SAE).

“SAEs are what make the agricultural education three-circle model work differently than other courses. This model drives students outside of classroom to learn for themselves – and to learn about their interests,” said John Poulson, Beck’s agricultural educator at Pettisville High School.

After receiving an SAE grant, she was able to expand her business, facilities and customer base. By the end of high school, Beck had gone from raising just a few birds to raising more than 500 broilers a year.

“Chrysta was a diligent and persistent student in completing tasks for her SAE, as well as her involvements in school, FFA and other organizations. She always pushed herself to get better,” said Poulson.

Throughout her time in FFA, her research projects advanced from fundamental topics related to chicken production to topics affecting the poultry industry at a larger scale – even nationally and globally.

“Through my experiences in FFA, I began to understand the organization and work ethic I needed to conduct research,” said Beck.

For Beck, FFA laid the framework of a future career in research. Her research in FFA involved preliminary environmental factors such as temperature and light color, but she soon understood there were several more factors to be considered.

By her senior year, Beck approached her research from a broader industry perspective and had deliberated feed conversion ratios, different genetic strains and an alternative to antibiotics. She performed egg injections of beneficial bacteria with the goal of using probiotics as an antibiotic alternative in commercial poultry production.

Now, with a degree in poultry science concentrated in veterinary science under her belt, Beck started working toward her master’s degree, focusing on probiotic applications in the poultry industry, at Mississippi State in the Fall of 2018.

“Without FFA, I wouldn’t have had such a smooth transition to college. FFA was very influential on my career choice and figuring out what I want to do in the future.”

Beck plans to pursue a Ph.D. program with the hopes of staying in academia to continue her research of probiotics as an antibiotic alternative in the poultry industry.

“FFA was a setting where I was able to grow in my own way,” said Beck. “To me, FFA is an organization that pushes students to be the best form of themselves they can be.” •

The American FFA Degree is the highest honor that can be achieved as an FFA member. This final step in the FFA Degree system encourages students to grow, achieve and establish themselves in an agricultural career. At the 2017 National FFA Convention & Expo, 397 Ohio FFA members received this honor.

NATIONAL PROFICIENCY WINNER

SWINE PRODUCTION-ENTREPRENEURSHIP

COLLIN DUNAWAY, FELICITY-FRANKLIN FFA

Collin Dunaway, Felicity-Franklin FFA, was the 2017 National Proficiency Winner in Swine Production-Entrepreneurship.

With the help and guidance of his agricultural educator, Holly Jennings, and other producers in the area, Dunaway was able to create his own successful freezer pork business as part of his Supervised Agricultural Experience in FFA.

Although Dunaway did not come from a traditional agricultural background, that did not deter him from his dream of raising livestock. After showing cattle and hogs at the county fair, he bought a few head of cattle of his own. Today, Dunaway runs a small cow-calf operation and continues to feed out hogs as part of his freezer pork business.

During his time in FFA, Dunaway saw a demand in his community for fresh, locally raised pork and decided he could help meet that need.

“People want to know where their food is coming from and that it is safe,” said Dunaway. That’s why he spends time with his customers thoroughly explaining his product.

His marketing plan helps him stand out amongst this competitors and peers because of the extra effort he offers his customers. Dunaway gets to know each of his patrons personally and is able to provide recommendations based on other customers’ past orders. Whenever he can, he walks each new customer through the cutting sheet in-person, so they are aware of all their meat processing options.

On top of that, Dunaway also makes the two-hour round trip to the packing house, then, personally delivers each order to the respective customer.

By the time he made it to the National FFA Convention & Expo in 2017 to compete for this award, Dunaway had purchased and managed nearly 50 hogs.

To Dunaway, being recognized nationally was an honor, but he still wishes he could do more.

“If I could go back in time, I’d compete in a lot more contests and get involved in even more activities. FFA, as a whole, helps students come out of their shells and really blossom. This organization provides a lot of life skills that set its members apart,” said Dunaway. “FFA has given me a lot of experiences that I’m very thankful that I had.”

He is appreciative of his ag educator, Mrs. Holly Jennings for playing such a large role in discovering his passion for agriculture.

“I’d like to try to be that positive role model for students in the future,” said Dunaway. Because of her influence, Dunaway is currently a student at The Ohio State University studying agriscience education with plans to one day become a teacher himself.

“I have a real respect for ag teachers and the profession. Being an ag teacher allows me to make a positive impact, help educate youth and emphasize the importance of agriculture.” •

OHIO'S STAR IN AGRISCIENCE

ERIN JENNINGS
FELICITY-FRANKLIN

Erin Jennings is a senior in the Felicity-Franklin FFA Chapter. Through her time in high school, she has spent 420 hours conducting, preparing and presenting three different research projects at both the state and national levels. Her projects focused on the mold growth in food service areas and the best methods to preserve the quality factors of oranges. Erin is the daughter of Scott and Jill Jennings, and her agricultural education teachers are Ms. Holly Jennings and Mr. Joe Broadwell. Her future plans are to attend Northern Kentucky University to major in middle school science and math education.

OHIO'S STAR IN AGRICULTURAL PLACEMENT

AARON HAND
WYNFORD

Aaron Hand is the son of Andrea and Mike Stump as well as Abby and Dave Hand. He is a graduate of Wynford High school where his agricultural educators are Tessa Martin and Mike Hoffman. Aaron's SAE consisted of working at Heritage Dairy and Grain Farm where he was tasked with managing the dairy herd and crop operation. During his time there he has gained experience in all aspects of the dairy and grain industry, from milking cows to drilling beans. Aaron plans to graduate from Ohio State ATI with a degree in crop management and return to the family farm.

OHIO'S STAR IN AGRIBUSINESS

CARSON EYRE
WESTERN BROWN

Carson Eyre began his SAE by mowing lawns for one weekly customer. Over the past 3 years he has grown to 42 weekly clients and manages 3 of his fellow FFA members as employees. The team provides services in mowing, trimming, fertilizing, blowing, snow removal and more. Carson is the son of Barry and Mindi Eyre, and his advisors are Ryan Rosselot. Aside from his lawncare business, he has plans to continue to grow his business while pursuing an associate degree from Cincinnati State in turf grass management.

OHIO'S STAR FARMER

TODD PETERSON
MIAMI TRACE

Todd Peterson is the son of Bob and Lisa Peterson. He is a recent graduate of Miami Trace High School where his advisors were Bruce Bennett, Amanda Swigert and Wendi Mizer-Stachler. Todd grew his first crop of soybeans in 2014 when he rented an abandoned 7-acre pasture and planted soybeans. He was responsible for daily operations and management decisions on field preparation, equipment operation, planting, fertilizer and pesticide programs, marketing and harvesting. In years since, his operation has grown to include 305 acres of corn, soybeans and wheat. Currently, Todd is studying agribusiness & applied economics at The Ohio State University. After graduation, he would like to return to the family farm.

STATE FFA DEGREE RECIPIENTS SPONSORED BY: FARM CREDIT MID-AMERICA

In 1920, the first group of State Farmers was composed of 19 young men. In 2018, 953 young men and women, representing 4% of the Ohio FFA membership, received the State FFA Degree. The State FFA Degree is the highest degree the Ohio FFA Association can bestow upon its membership. The golden charm, which each degree recipient receives, is symbolic of growth and development in an FFA member's chosen occupation.

A blue-tinted photograph of a worker in a factory setting. The worker is wearing a dark hard hat with a clear face shield and a heavy-duty work jacket. They are focused on a task, using a tool to grind a piece of metal against a large, dark grinding wheel. A shower of bright sparks is being generated from the point of contact. The background is filled with industrial machinery and structural elements, all rendered in shades of blue.

AGRICULTURAL & RURAL COMMUNITY OUTREACH PROGRAM

SPONSORED BY: OHIO DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

The Agricultural & Rural Community Outreach Program was introduced in 2014. Ohio FFA chapters apply for the opportunity to receive grants to help fund community development projects. Ohio FFA and the Ohio Department of Education jointly administer the program.

FFA Chapters submitted project proposals to the Ohio FFA Foundation, and a committee selected projects to receive grant funds ranging from $1,000 to $5,000. The program was funded by a $45,000 grant provided by the Ohio Department of Agriculture through the Ohio Rural Rehabilitation Fund.
