Our Heritage, Your Future: Life After FFA Bricker Building, Workshop A

Heritage Cooperative

Your blue jacket may come off, but your future is just beginning. In this interactive session hosted by Heritage Cooperative, recent FFA graduates share what surprised them most after high school, the mistakes they learned from, and the skills that matter most, regardless of what path you choose. Whether you're headed to college, trade school, or straight into the workforce, you'll leave with real-world insight, practical next steps, and confidence about what comes next. As a farmer-owned cooperative, Heritage is committed to investing in the next generation through meaningful internships and career opportunities for graduates pursuing all areas of agriculture.

Impact from the Inside Out

Bricker Building, Workshop B

Joey Nowotny, National FFA Eastern Region Vice President

Picture your biggest goal in life. Do you think it's possible? If you answered no, it will never be achievable because you already counted yourself out. This workshop will show how inner and outer dialogue, and mindset shapes confidence, values, actions, and futures. I believe anything is possible when can't is not in our vocabulary.

Who's The Leader

Bricker Building, Workshop B

Emily Mullen, The Mullen Dairy & Creamery

Students will be challenged to look at the many traits a leader may openly show on the outside, as well as ponder the quieter characteristics that make certain leaders more impactful than others. We will create a recipe compiled of different ingredients — or in this case leadership traits — both large and small, that when mixed together create a well-balanced individual capable of handling any situation they may find themselves in.
